REPORT NO. 1—COMMISSION ON WORLD SERVICE AND FINANCE

There has been brought to the attention of this Commission the matter of the inadequacy of the budgetary allowance for Conference entertainment.

We do recommend:

That if there is any deficit in the entertainment of the present annual Conference, the Conference host present the bill to the Conference Treasurer and that he be authorized to pay it, not to exceed $500.00.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) JOHN F. BRUTON, Chairman,
M. J. COWELL, Secretary.

REPORT NO. 2—COMMISSION ON WORLD SERVICE AND FINANCE

PART I

Acting in accordance with the Discipline of the Methodist Church, the edition of 1940, under authority of Par. 840, your Commission recommends:

1. That the annual salary of each of the seven district superintendents shall be set at $4,500.00, including expense attendant to their offices. Provided, however, that the district superintendents shall be paid, for the year as a whole, that percentage of $4,500.00 that is in exact proportion to the percentage of the amount paid on the assessments for pastors' salaries throughout the Conference.

Provided, however, that the District Stewards of each and every district may, if they so elect, estimate a sum equal to seven per cent of the combined estimated salaries of all pastors and assistant pastors, if any, in the district for the then current Conference year, and distribute said sum among all the charges of the district according to their ability to pay.

REPORT NO. 1—BOARD OF MISSIONS AND CHURCH EXTENSION

By a series of actions the North Carolina Conference, at its 1940 session, placed upon the Board of Missions and Church Extension a responsibility involving the payment of a considerable sum of money to College Place Church and failed to provide the funds with which to meet that responsibility. During the first-day session of the 1940 Conference, the following resolution was offered: "That the North Carolina and the Western North Carolina Conferences assume the present debt-obligation of College Place Church up to the amount of $23,000.00. This amount to be apportioned as follows:

"N. C. Annual Conference	$ 7,500.00
"W. N. C. Annual Conference	15,500.00

"That appropriations of the above amount of money, less appropriations by the two Boards of Missions at the Annual Conference of 1939, in four equal and annual installments, be authorized at the sessions of the two Annual Conferences in 1940."

The paper was adopted after W. K. Greene moved that the recommendations be approved by the North Carolina Conference and that the Commission on World Service and Finance be ordered to include the annual installments in the budget.

In Report No. 3 of the Commission on World Service and Finance, which report was adopted by the Conference, is a paragraph that is as follows: "As to the askings in behalf of College Place Church, it being a church debt, we believe it a matter that should be handled by the Board of Missions and Church Extension."

Your Board of Missions and Church Extension wants to serve the interests of the Conference in every possible manner, but obviously it cannot meet the obligation of paying the College Place Church debt unless the Conference provides the funds with which to pay it.

We, therefore, recommend that the Conference in its present session reconsider the action of last year of committing this obligation to the Board of Missions and Church Extension and if after due consideration the Conference wants the Board of Missions and Church Extension to handle this matter, we recommend that the Conference instruct the Commission on World Service and Finance to make an additional apportionment to the Board for this specific purpose that will yield a sufficient amount to meet the annual payments. If, after due consideration, the Conference wishes to handle the obligation in some other manner, then the Board of Missions and Church Extension shall be released of all responsibility for the action of last year's Conference.

(Signed) J. M. ORMOND, President,
S. J. STARNES, Secretary.

REPORT NO. 2—BOARD OF MISSIONS AND CHURCH EXTENSION

The North Carolina Conference, at its 1940 session, adopted Report No. 1 of the Board of Missions and Church Extension which was a recommendation that the Conference set up a Commission on Town and Country Work, as provided for in paragraph 982 of the 1940 Discipline.

Inasmuch as the Conference thus expressed its wish to organize such Commission and inasmuch as the Commission has not been set up, we, therefore, recommend:

1. That a Commission on Town and Country Work be organized during this session of the Conference.

2. That the Commission be requested to report to this session of the Conference its organization and to recommend a policy and program for the coming year.

3. That the Board of Missions and Church Extension, the Board of Education, Woman's Society of Christian Service, Board of Lay Activities, Commission on Evangelism, and the Youth Organization select their several representatives of the Commission, as provided for in the Discipline, and that Bishop Clare Purcell be requested to call a meeting of these selectees together with the District Superintendents, the Conference Missionary Secretary, and the Executive Secretary of the Board of Education as early as possible so that the recommendations above may be complied with.

(Signed) J. M. ORMOND, President,
S. J. STARNES, Secretary.

REPORT NO. 3—BOARD OF MISSIONS AND CHURCH EXTENSION

Your Board of Missions and Church Extension submits the following report for your consideration:

The Board has reviewed the missionary program of the year, and noted with deep satisfaction many evidences of progress. It is becoming more evident that our people are interested in, and are responding to the missionary appeal as it is related to our Conference and in its broader aspects as a world-wide program.

This is reflected in several ways. It is gratifying to note that, under the new financial set-up, there has been an increase both in amount of acceptnaces and in amounts paid on benevolences. This generosity comes at a most opportune time when there are so many calls made on the benevolent funds of the church. In these crucial days in world affairs the church must not fail in its opportunity, and we appeal to all our churches to continue the fine spirit of liberal giving, and if possible to increase the amount next Conference year. We offer this suggestion because of the many worth-while appeals that come to your Board of Missions and Church Extension as well as to the other Boards of the church. The ability of these agencies to respond to the needs is determined by the benevolent giving of the churches. We urge all our ministers and church leaders to cultivate in each congregation a missionary spirit that will be reflected in the unselfish liberality of our people.

We are glad to note that a large number of local Church Schools of Missions have been conducted in churches throughout the Conference. This we believe is a fine way to educate our people to the needs and to encourage active participation in carrying out the program of the church along this line.

We recommend that a School of Missions be held in each local church, preferably during February and March, and that a large enrollment be sought. We call attention to the fact that the book for use in the mission study courses this year is written by Dr. Paul N. Garber, Dean of the Duke Divinity School, and is titled "The Methodist Meeting House." Dr. Garber's knowledge of church history fits him in a very fine way to write this book, and we commend it to our people.

The several District Missionary Institutes have been valuable in the emphasis placed upon the dissemination of missionary information. From these meetings pastors and laymen can go back to their charges with an intelligent conception of the whole program of missions and with renewed zeal for the cause. We commend the several District Missionary Secretaries for their splendid work, and recommend that such District Institutes be continued during the coming year. We ask for the hearty co-operation of all ministers and laymen in attending these district meetings, and carrying information back to their charges which will greatly help them in their local School of Missions.

For several years it has been the practice of the Conference Missionary Secretary, working in conjunction with the Board of Missions and Church Extension, to plan a mid-year conference-wide missionary meeting. We feel sure that much good is accomplished in this way by looking at the larger picture of the missionary story. Our horizons are broadened and our missionary interest is quickened. We recommend such a meeting for the coming year to be held at central points in the Conference, at a time and place to be arranged by the Missionary Secretary and the Chairman of the Board of Missions and Church Extension. If and when such meeting is held, it is our strong desire that an unusually large number of ministers and laymen throughout the Conference shall attend.

In the report of this Board last year, adopted by the Conference, it was recommended that authority be granted the Board to set up City Boards of Missions and Church Extension in cities of 10,000 or more population. We are happy to report that, working through the Conference Missionary Secretary, the Board has organized one such Board in the city of Wilmington, and such organizations are now being formed in Raleigh and Durham. Dr. Channing A. Richardson, of New York, who heads up this department, recently spent several days in this Conference working along this line. It is our hope that several such societies may be organized within the next year.

We earnestly urge that the district superintendents and the official boards of pastoral charges endeavor to increase the amounts paid for ministers' salaries on mission charges, in order that the funds of the Board may be released to be used for emergencies and special enterprises. The ideal should be to make each charge self-supporting as early as possible. We believe that, with better economic conditions, some progress should be made in this matter.

We recommend Rev. F. S. Love for the appointment of Conference Missionary Secretary.

As members of the Board of Managers of the North Carolina Pastors' School we recommend F. W. Paschall and M. T. Plyler.

We recommend the following representatives from this Board as members of the Commission on Town and Country Work to be set up at this Conference: Rev. J. M. Ormond, Rev. F. B. Joyner, and Rev. C. W. Goldston.

CHURCH EXTENSION SECTION

As usual there have been a large number of calls upon the Church Extension Section of this Board, and the funds have been far too small to meet these needs. The Board has endeavored to exercise good judgment in dealing with all applications for aid, either as donations or loans. We urge our ministers and laymen not to request aid from this Board if the local congregation can take care of the situation without help. This would release funds for use in what is truly missionary projects. However, if aid must be had, make the askings as low as possible. Do not expect the Board to carry the heavier end of the load.

REPORT NO. 1—THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Education in the Christian way of life has measured up to many of our hopes during this year, under the leadership of Robert W. Bradshaw, Conference Secretary of Christian Education. This Board wishes to express gratitude for the always unselfish, and sometimes sacrificial way, in which he is building a truly great program in the North Carolina Conference.

Our thanks go to the former Miss Alma Cade, now the wife of the Rev. William J. Erwin, for her years of effective service as Conference Director of Children's Work.

Significant increases are noted in Christian Education reports in the following features of the work: Vacation Church Schools, Summer Assemblies, Church School Rally Day offerings, and Fourth Sunday offerings for World Service. A new venture was made in a District Youth Assembly for the New Bern District. Also in far-east Hatteras there was a Youth Assembly during the past summer.

This year, for the first time, the Conference adult work program is running smoothly, and with power, under the direction of Rev. O. L. Hathaway, voluntary Conference Director, and a complete staff of District Directors. An Adult Assembly was held with Bishop Clare Purcell and Dr. M. Leo Rippy, of Nashville, sharing in the leadership. A Conference Young Adult Fellowship has begun its work, and we have gone into the Bible Conference field, with five being held this first year.

Two hundred Methodist college students attended the North Carolina Methodist Student Conference in Greensboro. Our Executive Secretary will serve as Dean of the State Student Conference to be held at Chapel Hill in February, 1942.

The Pastors' Summer School presented what seemed to be its best program to date. The attendance and interest reached a high peak.

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

DUKE UNIVERSITY

Duke University continues its fine service of preparing young ministers for this Conference and other Conferences of Methodism. Students on the Duke Foundation are rendering an increasingly fine service in the rural churches in the two North Carolina Conferences. They assist in revivals, teach in training schools, help in Vacation Church Schools, and in Youth Week programs.

GREENSBORO COLLEGE

Seventy-three counties of this state and eleven states are represented in the present student body at Greensboro College. 71% of these students are Methodists, among whom are the President and Treasurer of the North Carolina Conference Methodist Youth Fellowship. Plans have been completed for the restoration of the Main Building, so that it will be more beautiful and useful than before the injury by fire.

HIGH POINT COLLEGE

High Point College reports that 80% of the 492 students are North Carolina young people, and that 54% of the student body is made up of Methodists. More than 30 pastors serving Methodist pastorates in North Carolina are graduates of this institution, and at this time there are 14 students who are studying for the ministry of the Methodist Church.

LOUISBURG COLLEGE

Louisburg College continues its program of improvements in financial strength, in campus and equipment requirements, and in accommodations and service to students. Its supreme need for the coming year is the ability to answer the pressing demand for service scholarships. The response to this need on the part of individuals and organizations is most gratifying.

SCARRITT COLLEGE

Scarritt College serves Methodism in a very distinctive way, in that it is the only Methodist institution of its kind in the nation. Scarritt deserves a continued and growing interest in our prayers and in our generosity.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) H. E. SPENCE, President,
J. G. PHILLIPS, Secretary.

REPORT NO. 2—THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

RECOMMENDATIONS

We recommend the Disciplinary Methodist Student Loan Fund, and also that we authorize Methodist Student Day in our Annual Conference.

We recommend participation in the United Christian Education Advance, a movement sponsored by more than forty Protestant denominations in America. This will not mean any financial obligation.

Special attention is called to Greensboro College's loss by fire and helpful interest is urged in assisting the college to restore Main Building and make proper provision for housing the library.

Attention is also called to the effort of Louisburg College to provide service scholarships for needy students, and we recommend co-operation with the effort to secure such scholarships through the so-designated "Living Endowment" program.

APPOINTMENTS RECOMMENDED

We recommend the following appointments:

Professors in Duke University—H. E. Spence, J. M. Ormond, H. E. Myers, and F. S. Hickman.

Superintendent of Oxford Orphanage—C. K. Proctor.

We announce the continuing services of Miss Mary Elizabeth Myers as Office Secretary and Assistant Director of Youth Work.

We announce the employment of Miss Lorene Weaver to be Conference Director of Children's Work.

REPORT NO. 3—THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Be it resolved: that,

The Trustees of Louisburg College are hereby empowered and authorized to grant and to sell to the Town of Louisburg, upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed, such right of way or easement along the campus on North Main Street as indicated upon a plot submitted by the State Highway Commission in order that there be greater ease and safety of traffic around the Confederate Monument.

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) H. E. SPENCE, President,
J. G. PHILLIPS, Secretary.

REPORT NO. 1—BOARD OF CONFERENCE CLAIMANTS

For the support of superannuates, their widows, and dependent children, your Board recommends:

"That an amount equal to 5% of the salaries paid to all pastors and their clerical assistants who are members of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church, be assessed against all charges of the said Conference; such funds to be sent to the Conference Treasurer who shall administer same as provided by the Discipline."

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) J. A. STATON, President,
L. T. SINGLETON, Secretary,
C. E. JORDAN, Treasurer.

REPORT NO. 2—BOARD OF CONFERENCE CLAIMANTS

It is gratifying that we are able to report that the year's income permits us to increase superannuate payments from $4.25 to $6.90 per service year and to their widows from $2.975 to $4.83 per service year.

This does not provide adequate support. Nothing short of $10.00 per service year will meet these needs.

We have at this time 57 superannuates who have given the church 1,720 years of service.

We have 82 widows with 1,850 service years.

The following claimants have died during the year: Rev. G. T. Adams, Rev. J. T. Gibbs, Rev. J. B. Hurley, Rev. J. M. Rhodes, Rev. W. H. Townsend, Rev. N. H. D. Wilson, and Mrs. J. M. Lowder.

We recommend that the Secretary of the Conference be directed to have published in the Conference Journal each year the amount paid during the Conference year to the Ministers' Retirement Fund by each member of the Conference and each pastoral charge.

We nominate W. L. Clegg to succeed himself as Financial Secretary of the Ministers' Retirement Fund.

The Board has had the books of both the Treasurer and the Secretary of the Ministers' Retirement Fund audited by a competent auditor.

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) J. A. STATON, President,
L. T. SINGLETON, Secretary,
C. E. JORDAN, Treasurer.

The Conference Board of Lay Activities nominates W. K. Greene as Conference Lay Leader for the year 1941-1942, W. J. Smith as Vice-Chairman, F. S. Aldridge as Secretary and Treasurer, and for the Executive Committee, the officers of the Board, along with A. M. Noble, B. W. O'Neal, and F. E. Parrott.

REPORT NO. 2—BOARD OF LAY ACTIVITIES

Paragraph 1230 of the Discipline of the Methodist Church reads as follows: "The District and Associate District Lay Leaders shall be elected annually by the District Conference upon nomination of a Committee to be named by the district superintendent; provided that, where the Annual Conference shall order, the District and the Associate District Lay Leaders shall be elected annually by the Annual Conference on nomination of the district superintendents and the Conference Lay Leader."

The Conference Board of Lay Activities recommends that, beginning with the meeting of the Annual Conference in 1942, the District and Associate District Lay Leaders, in accordance with the provision of the Discipline, be elected at the regular Annual Conference session.

This recommendation received the unanimous approval of the Council of Conference Lay Leaders in the Southeastern Jurisdiction at its annual meeting at Lake Junaluska, July 18-20, 1941.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) W. K. GREENE, Chairman,
F. S. ALDRIDGE, Secretary.

REPORT NO. 3—BOARD OF LAY ACTIVITIES

IN MEMORIAM
WILLIAM LLOYD KNIGHT
1882-1941

In the passing of William Lloyd Knight, North Carolina Methodism has lost one of its most faithful members and the Conference Board of Lay Activities one of its most devoted leaders.

Will Knight, as he was affectionately called, was an outstanding layman of The Methodist Church. For many years he served with distinction on various Boards of the North Carolina Conference and many of the rich experiences of his life are intimately interwoven with the history of this great body.

As District Lay Leader of the Rocky Mount District he devoted his splendid talents unceasingly to the promotion of the lay program of the church. He was a valuable member of the Board of Trustees of Louisburg College. His church honored him for his native ability, spiritual devotion, and consecrated leadership by sending him repeatedly to the General Conference of the former M. E. Church, South. He was a member of the Uniting Conference and a delegate to the first Jurisdictional Conference of the United Church.

Will Knight was a man of gentle and affectionate nature. He loved little children and they loved him. He had an open, loving heart for all mankind, which revealed itself particularly in his tender consideration of the aged, the infirm, and the bereaved.

Will Knight was a man of courage. He never asked if the cause that appealed for his help were popular. The only thing that mattered was whether it was just and right. He was able "to walk amid circumstances and yet be above them, to live in the midst of change and destruction and yet be conscious of a destiny, to be at home in the world and yet find true kinship with God."

Will Knight walked with God and knew what it meant to be a loyal partner of Jesus Christ. His life was a splendid example of devotion to Christian ideals and a revelation of the triumph of Christian faith. He was faithful to the end and, in spite of great bodily suffering, his heart was filled with the peace of God and his face was radiant with the light of the Eternal.

He has gone, but his influence will live in the hearts he has touched. There, in the beautiful valley of the Roanoke, he lies sleeping. Around him, the fragrant shrubs and flowers that he loved so much now watch with tender devotion over his sacred dust. The years may come and go, but the memory of his noble life will ever shine out in clear and radiant splendor.

In these words, we, the members of the Conference Board of Lay Activities, honor the memory of William Lloyd Knight and record our deep affection for the man whose life was a radiant example, in a broken and distressed world, of the enduring significance of the true, the pure, and the good.

(Signed) W. K. GREENE, Chairman,
F. S. ALDRIDGE, Secretary.

REPORT NO. 4—BOARD OF LAY ACTIVITIES

The Conference Board of Lay Activities makes the following recommendations as its program of objectives for 1941-1942:

I. CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP

We recommend that special emphasis be placed upon the cultivation of Christian stewardship in our Official Boards and under their leadership within the whole church, by means of sermons, or series of sermons on stewardship, to be preached by the pastor, stewardship classes under competent leadership, and three-minute speeches from time to time given by laymen in the church services. In all stewardship education there should be co-operation with the Conference Board of Education.

II. CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP AND CHURCH ATTENDANCE

We recommend that we seek to develop in all of our churches a more wholesome spirit of Christian fellowship and a greater loyalty to attendance on divine worship. Herein lies one of the greatest challenges that confronts us in our whole program and one in which all of the laymen of the church may participate. Since surveys show that from 65 to 70 per cent of the membership of the church do not regularly attend worship services, well organized efforts should be made to cultivate these non-attending members. This can be done through placing upon the active members of the church the responsibility of those who do not participate in the worship services. Christian fellowship may further be advanced by developing a spirit of friendship by which men will be inclined to call each other by their first names and thus to find upon coming to church a welcome and a fellowship which surpasses that of the service clubs.

III. PERSONAL EVANGELISM

We recommend that the laymen of the church be particularly alert and sensitive to the many opportunities for personal evangelism and suggest that the use of prayer lists, personal witnessing, and personal visitation be followed in promoting our work in this field.

IV. SOUND CHURCH FINANCE IN THE LOCAL CHURCH

We recommend that each local church institute a sound financial system founded upon the principles of Christian stewardship, which shall include:

1. The careful making of a budget to include current expenses, the support of the minister, and General and Conference Benevolences.
2. A thorough Every-member Canvass made before the close of the Conference year. (In local churches where this has not already been done, we urge that the Every-member Canvass be made immediately.)
3. Weekly payment of pledges by the use of envelopes as a distinctive part of worship.
4. A careful follow-up of all pledges.
5. At least a quarterly statement of church members' accounts.
6. Monthly payment of all obligations.
7. Systematic effort to develop a tithing membership.

V. WORLD SERVICE—GENERAL AND CONFERENCE WORK

We recommend that every effort be made to inform the membership of the church of the great causes represented in the benevolent enterprises; that each local church be urged to accept in full its benevolent apportionment; and that the goal for 1941-1942 be the payment of at least one-half of the Benevolences by May 1, 1942, and the full payment of the Benevolences not later than one month preceding the meeting of the Annual Conference.

VI. ADEQUATE SUPPORT OF THE MINISTRY

We heartily endorse the action of the Conference upon the report of the Special Committee on "Adequate Support of the Ministry" and recommend that special emphasis be laid upon the primary responsibility of the Official Boards of the local churches in reaching the goal of minimum salaries for our ministers. Since a member of the Conference is required to give all of his time to the work of the ministry, he is entitled to an adequate support. While this is primarily a responsibility of the local charge, it is also a responsibility of the whole Conference.

We further recommend that all Official Boards, in consideration of ministerial support, include in their budgets a sufficient amount to provide not only for the necessities but also for those factors that make for the efficiency of the minister, such as transportation, books and periodicals, and opportunity to attend Pastors' Schools and Institutes provided for the further training of the ministry.

VII. LAY SPEAKING

We recommend that the District Lay Leaders, district superintendents and local pastors co-operate in providing lay speakers for circuit churches in the absence of the pastor, where such services are desired by the local churches; further, that through the District Lay Organizations efforts be made to provide for religious services in needy centers where the church is not established.

VIII. TRAINING OFFICIAL BOARDS

We recommend that classes be held annually in the local churches for the training of Official Boards, using as the basic text Morelock's "The Official Board of the Methodist Church," and that, where practicable, District Institutes for stewards and other local church officials be held.

IX. GOLDEN CROSS

We recommend that the cause of the Golden Cross be earnestly promoted in each local church; and that the goal for the coming year be the enrollment of at least 1,000 members in each district of the Conference.

X. THE NORTH CAROLINA CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE AND OTHER CHRISTIAN LITERATURE

We recommend that we give our wholehearted approval to the objective set forth by the Advocate Board of Publication—to secure in each church one new subscriber to the North Carolina Christian Advocate for every fifty members of the church. We further recommend that every effort be made to put the North Carolina Christian Advocate in the home of every member of the Official Board.

We further recommend that Official Boards take steps to place The Christian Advocate—the General organ of The Methodist Church—in every Methodist home of their congregations and that every member of the Official Board become a subscriber to the Methodist Layman—the "trade journal" of the Lay Organization.

XI. THE METHODIST ORPHANAGE

We recommend that we give our unqualified endorsement and whole-hearted support to the Conference program for the Methodist Orphanage; that, in keeping with this purpose, a special offering be taken in the churches and church schools during the Thanksgiving season or the Christmas holidays; and that a free-will offering be made in the church schools every fifth Sunday.

We further recommend that the Men's Bible Classes throughout the Conference make aid to The Methodist Orphanage a special objective in their program for 1941-1942; that they urge their members to visit the Orphanage at least once during the year; that they assume the care of an orphan or of another orphan as the case may be; and that they make an effort, during the summer of 1942, to have the individual members of the class entertain our young friends of the Orphanage for a week in their homes.

XII. CHRISTIANIZING COMMUNITY LIFE

Realizing that the supreme task of the church is to bring sinful men and women to God, we recommend that the Official Board assume as one of its major objectives the christianizing of community life, and that it lend itself to co-operative and continuous attack upon all social evils, with particular reference to the moral and social problems arising from intemperance, gambling and the promiscuous circulation of salacious literature.

XIII. WORK ASSEMBLY—CONFERENCE BOARD

We recommend that a work assembly of the Conference Board of Lay Activities be held at Goldsboro, North Carolina, on November 24-25, 1941, for the purpose of devising ways and means of realizing the objectives set forth in this report.

XIV. WORK ASSEMBLY—DISTRICT BOARD

We recommend that a work assembly of the District Board of Lay Activities be held in each district on a selected day during the first week in December for the purpose of carrying the objectives of the Conference Board to the Lay Leaders of the local churches and of considering the means of making them effective in the local church.

XV. DISTRICT LAYMEN'S LEAGUE

We recommend that one or more meetings of the District Laymen's League (formerly the League of Stewards) be held in each district during the year 1941-1942.

XVI. LAYMEN'S DAY

We recommend that "Laymen's Day" be observed in every charge on the fourth Sunday in February, 1942, and that the subject for discussion be "Methodist Men and the Mission of the Church." We further recommend the use of the material supplied by the General Board of Lay Activities. District superintendents and pastors are hereby requested to fix this date on their Conference calendars so that it may be kept clear for this specific purpose.

XVII. LAYMEN'S WEEK

We recommend that, immediately preceding "Laymen's Day," every Official Board observe "Laymen's Week," and that the Manual prepared by Dr. Schofield on The Methodist Church be made the subject of study during that week.

XVIII. DISTRIBUTION OF THE REPORT

We recommend that a copy of this program of Lay Activities be placed in the hands of each charge and church Lay Leader, with the request that he read these objectives to the members of the Official Board and appoint appropriate committees to promote them in the local church.

XIX. MAJOR EMPHASIS

While we should be diligent in seeking to carry out the total program of Lay Work, we earnestly recommend that for the remainder of the present quadrennium each Official Board and the entire Lay Organization enlist in a major effort to make of the local church:

A Worshiping Church
A Fellowship Church
An Evangelistic Church
A Stewardship Church
A Missionary Church

XX. CONCLUSION

Faith is the golden chain that binds the human soul to the throne of God. Because we have fallen upon evil days, there is greater need than ever for Christian men and women to cling to the faith that "through the ages one increasing purpose runs" and that "somehow good will be the final goal of ill."

"O for a faith that will not shrink,
Though pressed by every foe,
That will not tremble on the brink
Of any earthly woe.

"That will not murmur nor complain
Beneath the chastening rod,
But, in the hour of grief or pain,
Will lean upon its God."

Though we have fallen upon evil days, the Board of Lay Activities is resolved to promote more vigorously the program of the Christian Religion and, with unquestioned faith in the ultimate triumph of spiritual forces, presents the foregoing objectives for your approval.

Respectfully submitted,

F. S. ALDRIDGE, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HOSPITALS AND HOMES

Your Board of Hospitals and Homes desires to make the following report:

It is now a well known fact that three hundred orphan children are being cared for at our Methodist Orphanage in Raleigh in a way that brings pride and joy to every Methodist and to every lover of little children. The Orphanage administration is giving the most careful consideration to every detail of every child's welfare. It has gladly accepted and worthily bears the responsibility for their health, their education, their recreation and their spiritual training. Yet this splendid program is being promoted on an economical basis unequaled by another large Orphanage in the State of North Carolina. This, we believe, is made possible by the wise and efficient leadership of the Superintendent, Rev. A. S. Barnes, who also does all the case work for the Orphanage and serves as its Treasurer.

The Board wishes to express its gratitude to many individuals, churches, church schools, classes and Women's Societies of Christian Service for their interest and generous support of the Orphanage.

On Tuesday, October 7, 1941, your Board of Hospitals and Homes, together with the Executive Committee of the Orphanage Board of Trustees, met at the Orphanage in Raleigh to review the work of this institution.

The discussions of these two groups brought out the fact that due to the increased number of children being cared for at the Orphanage and due also to the increased cost of living, the old financial plan for paying the operating expenses of the Orphanage is no longer adequate. The following figures for the year 1939-40 will reveal how inadequate this plan has become. That year the Orphanage received $36,000.00 from the 10% apportionment, $7,700.00 from the Orphanage Endowment, and $7,900.00 from the Duke Endowment, making a total of $52,100.00. This left $32,900.00 to be raised through specials, but actually $19,303.00 was received as specials. During the last three years it has been necessary to use $22,000.00 from undirected legacies in order to balance the budget.

BE IT RESOLVED: That our North Carolina Conference Orphanage money be raised as follows:

Instead of depending upon a blanket assessment of an amount equal to ten per cent of the pastor's salary and the specials that have been coming from the churches, the following be adopted and used as the method for raising our Orphanage support, namely:

That an apportionment of an amount equal to six per cent of the total church budget raised for the previous year be made to all of the charges within the Conference.

The following items to be deductible, namely:

1. Funds raised and paid on building, repairing, paying interest and debts on church and parsonage property.

2. All Orphanage specials except that raised by the Woman's Society of Christian service to be credited on this six per cent asking.

We further recommend that each pastor promote an Orphanage educational program on his charge which will thoroughly acquaint all our people with the needs and the work of the Orphanage.

We urge that the pastors take advantage of the special opportunity afforded by the Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons for raising the major portion of the Orphanage apportionment early in the year.

We wish also to call attention to the work of our hospitals and to express our appreciation for the fine and Christ-like service which they are rendering sick and suffering humanity. We deeply appreciate the generous contributions made by the Duke Endowment to the hospitals and orphanages of our state.

We desire also to register our sincere pleasure and gratitude for the ever-increasing interest shown in the Golden Cross work of our Conference which brings treatment and healing to many who otherwise would be unable to receive it. We apprceiate the fine work which Mr. F. S. Aldridge has done as Conference Director of Golden Cross and we heartily recommend his re-appointment. We also recommend the appointment of Golden Cross Directors in each of the districts of the Conference.

We further recommend that the month of May, 1942, be the period of enrollment for the Golden Cross with the provision that such enrollment continue until the members of all the charges have had an opportunity to enroll, and that 95% of all funds raised be administered by the Conference Director of Golden Cross within the bounds of this Conference and that the remaining 5% be put to the General Golden Cross Fund.

Your Board of Hospitals and Homes wishes to recall the interest that was manifested by our Conference some years ago in the matter of homes for superannuate ministers. We earnestly hope that this interest may be renewed and we suggest that if there are ministers or laymen in our Conference who would like to donate such homes or make contribution toward the securing of such homes that they make this desire known to the Board of Hospitals and Homes whose duty it will be to administer such funds.

We recommend the appointment of Rev. C. K. Proctor as Superintendent of the Oxford Orphanage and the appointment of Rev. A. S. Barnes as the Superintendent of the Methodist Orphanage at a salary of $3,600.00 per year.

(Signed) S. A. MAXWELL, President,
A. L. THOMPSON, Secretary.

NOTE: This report, as printed, embodies the final action of the Conference as to the way in which this Orphanage assessment is to be raised.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF TEMPERANCE

WHEREAS, the use of intoxicating liquors is admitted universally to be hurtful, both to the persons who use the same and to society generally;

WHEREAS, the legalization of beer throughout North Carolina and the operations of liquor stores in 25 counties in our state have increased drinking, drunkenness and all of the other evils that accompany the liquor traffic;

WHEREAS, the Methodist Church always has been and still is opposed to the legalization of the nefarious business;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: By the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church, assembled in Durham, North Carolina, on this 13th day of November, 1941, as follows:

1. That we are chagrined by the fact that the 25 counties in North Carolina in which liquor stores are being operated are all within the confines of our Conference.

2. That we urge particularly the governmental authorities, federal, state and county, to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors in the counties and districts surrounding Fort Bragg and other military camps where our boys are being trained in our National Defense program.

3. That we urge the friends of temperance to nominate and elect legislators who will outlaw beer, whiskey and all other intoxicating liquors and nominate and elect sheriffs, judges and other law enforcement officers, who will enforce the laws against liquor.

4. That in order to aid in the development of sentiment against the liquor traffic, we urge that the instruction in our public schools and in our church schools, relative to the harmful effects of alcohol, be made as effective as possible, and that our pastors preach often in behalf of total abstinence, that each year the subject of temperance be allotted a place in the program of our Annual Conference, and that each year the subject of temperance be allotted an adequate place in the program of the annual meeting of each District Conference.

That we beseech all pastors and other church officers that they do not recommend, nor approve, for official position in any phase of church life, any person who drinks alcoholic beverages, advertises it, manufactures it, sells it, advocates its sale, or in any other way seeks to promote the liquor traffic.

(Signed) CALE K. BURGESS, Chairman,
L. D. HAYMAN, Secretary.

REPORT NO. 1—COMMISSION ON WORLD PEACE

We are keenly aware of the dimness which has come over or threatens every land and people in the world today. It is with saddened hearts that all thinking men look upon the disaster which has come to mankind. This is not an hour for idle words nor empty platitudes. We are convinced that there can be only one remedy, which is Christ Jesus. We, therefore, with all earnestness, propose that in this Conference the year ahead of us be characterized by the greatest emphasis on the preaching of Jesus of which we are capable. There is no hope of peace, except through Him.

The church is charged with the task of so spreading the love of Christ as to preclude all opposing emotions. Let there be no hate. And only the love of Jesus can fill the hearts of men so as to shut it out. There will be no peace to abide in the world until all men everywhere are brought together in a common devotion to the Prince of Peace. Let the gravity of the world situation be met with calmness and assurance. Christ can heal the nations. Only He is able. Let us preach Christ!

For the church, the present situation constitutes first of all a call to repentance. The church is commissioned to proclaim the gospel of peace and brotherhood; but she has not prevented men from plunging into suicidal strife. To this extent she must confess that she has failed her Lord; and must search her own heart to discover wherein she has failed and what she must now do more faithfully to carry out her mission.

When the church begins so to repent, two minimum and urgent imperatives are at once apparent. First, we must strive to keep unbroken the fellowship of the world Christian community. To this end, the church must resolutely refuse to succumb to the divisions and passions of the world. And we must at once tremendously increase our support of the missionary enterprise, which is the Christian international and the best hope of binding together a broken humanity. Second, we must begin now in definite fashion a far greater practice of brotherhood within the Christian community, in order to give to men a practical demonstration of the gospel which we preach. The church must cease to be primarily an institution and become a brotherhood of service.

In addition, the church must begin to prepare now, in order that at the end of the war she may exercise a Christian leadership for the establishment of a righteous and enduring peace. It is the urgent duty of all Christian people to inform themselves of the measures necessary for the achievement of such a peace. Studies on these questions should be undertaken, not only among our leaders, but in every local church. For this purpose, we recommend that our pastors secure copies of the report of the Federal Council of Churches' Commission on the Bases of a Just and Enduring Peace. This report, titled "When Hostilities Cease," is published by our Methodist Publishing House and is on sale in the Book Room at this Conference. We also recommend that our pastors and laymen acquaint themselves with the materials issued by our General Commission on World Peace, samples of which are on display in the booth maintained by your Conference Commission.

Looking to the outcome of the present war, we recall that in 1940 the General Conference of our church said: "We believe that the United States should remain in a position to preserve democracy within its own borders, to provide relief for war-stricken populations, and to assist in the physical and economic rehabilitation of a war-shattered world. We hold, therefore, that the United States should remain out of the present conflicts in Europe and in the Far East." In 1939, this Conference declared: "The Christian leadership of this land must see to it that the church not only will refuse to sanction war but will also stand ever ready to oppose the propagation of war psychology."

We here reaffirm those convictions; and we deplore those measures which, whatever their purpose, have in fact brought our nation step by step to the verge of full participation in this war. We sympathize with the President and our other leaders in the grave responsibility which is theirs. But we would remind them of solemn assurances given to the American people that they would not be led into foreign wars. We call upon them to make every effort to redeem those pledges. We urgently request them to begin now to use the prestige and influence of this nation for the establishment of a just and enduring peace, achieved not by military force but by mediation.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT NO. 2—COMMISSION ON WORLD PEACE

We rejoice in the large measure of success which attended the appeal for a Compassion Day offering of a million dollars. The response of the people was most heartening, and suggests that Methodism is not on the way out, but on the way up. We are grateful to God for His help, and to the Bishops and others who led us in this great undertaking.

We recognize that this work is not done, but only splendidly begun. Needs continue and increase in these days of widespread conflict and desolation. In particular, the work of the Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief, appointed by the General Conference for this quadrennium, is a continuing work, and apart from the offerings of any special day, should enter into the regular month-by-month program of all our churches.

We covenant that this privilege of sharing with the refugees, the prisoners, the needy and desolate of many lands, shall be presented to our people. We will seek by the use of thank-offering boxes in the church and in the homes, by the devotion of communion offerings, or by such other means as we and our people may agree upon, to maintain their steady interest and help for this outstanding duty and opportunity of the present day for Overseas Relief.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) T. G. VICKERS, Chairman,
JOHN C. GLENN,
J. H. BARNHARDT,
H. S. McGIRT,
HENRY G. RUARK, Secretary.

REPORT NO. 3—COMMISSION ON WORLD PEACE

Whereas, our church has declared its support of such of its members as be conscientious objectors to war;

And, whereas, conscientious objectors who are assigned to Civilian Public Service Camps under the Selective Service Act are required to pay for their upkeep, amounting to approximately $35.00 monthly for each individual;

We direct that at a proper time during this session the Chairman of the Conference receive a special offering, the proceeds of which shall be sent to our General Commission on World Peace to be used for the support of conscientious objectors.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ACCEPTED SUPPLY PASTORS

We, the Committee on Accepted Supply Pastors, recommend that the following local preachers be placed on the list of Accepted Supply Pastors:

Daniel C. Boone, J. R. Regan, J. K. Worthington, A. J. McClellan, L. T. Edens, G. C. Wood, W. J. Freeman, J. Q. Patrick, A. L. Maxwell, C. B. Peacock, W. E. Smith, J. W. Smith.

M. E. Cotten and R. W. Barfield, having attained the age of 60 years prior to June, 1940, we recommend that they be exempted from that provision of paragraph 1112 of the Discipline which requires them to take the course of study.

A Request: In order that the Committee might be informed as to the status of the persons on the Accepted Supply Pastors' list, it is requested that each person applying for work be recommended by the district from which they come.

(Signed) J. HERBERT MILLER, Chairman,
H. FRED SURRATT, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION ON EVANGELISM

The heart of the world is wistful for religious reality and deeply hungry for an experience of God as revealed through Christ. In brief retrospect we observe that strikingly unconventional literature dealing with the conversion type of redemptive religious experience has been most popular. We need only to recall Tolstoy's "The Resurrection"; "The Everlasting Mercy," by John Masefield; "Twice-born Men," by Harold Begbie; "The Varieties of Religious Experience," by William James; "The Christ of The Indian Road" or "The Christ of Every Road," by Stanley Jones, and "In His Steps," by Charles M. Sheldon. All of these books became "best sellers" and are more widely read even today than rare fiction or startling novels. Why? Because they disclose the power of religion to convert and continuously transform and empower the human spirit for adventurous living. Indeed, the call to evangelism is outmoded only in certain decadent religious circles!

Let us accept the probing and face the disturbing fact, however, that unlike many modern congregations, transformations were really expected in the New Testament church, in the early church, and in fact in the history of most religions until and unless they became decadent and substituted ritual for redemption and solemn feasts for conquests. In such strange times as are coming upon the church, in utter bewilderment, it seems to be tossing this glorious expectation overboard for lesser cargo. We are called upon to make moral adjustments with an immoral world, to decline with a decaying order of life about us. Dare we neglect the evangelistic obligation of the local church and our pastoral responsibility for discharging this obligation? If we are to escape being destroyed by a sinning society it is imperative that as preachers we must have the "giant hour" and the inspired moment of some tremendous religious reality to revitalize us. As pastors, let us interrogate our experiences. Is it not true that we need something of the illumination that came to Dr. W. E. Channing as he sat that auspicious day on the winding bank of the Charles River looking out across the marshes to the Brookline hills; do we not need the quickening that came to Phillips Brooks in the quiet of his study when his spirit bloomed and a whiter light from a higher sky shone through all of his sermons and fell upon his letters and diaries; do we not need the spontaneous certainty and joy that came to Horace Bushnell that memorable night when he leaped from his bed in the Yale dormitory crying: "I have found it! I have found it! I have found the Gospel"; do we not need the glow that came to Dr. George A. Gordon that eventful day in the quiet academic atmosphere of old Appleton Chapel on the campus of Harvard University; does not this day of tension and terrible responsibility demand of us that transcendental empowering that came to A. J. Gordon in the study of old Clarendon Street Church yonder in Boston; do we not need afresh the ordination of the pierced hand just as it came to A. B. Simpson in the heart of his busy parish life in New York City? Let us remember that out of such experiences an international evangelism has reached to the remote and untouched corners of the earth.

In his most readable book, "The New Preaching," Dr. Joseph Fort Newton hits the major chord in evangelism as he declares: "In the lives of the supreme preachers one nearly always finds a golden year, a shining day, sometimes a single luminous hour, which gives the key to his career; they ceased to stammer and their sermons moved with the lilt and lift of lyrics." Dare we pastors neglect this luminous hour? Can we afford to escape the shining day? What if we miss the golden year?

In the field of evangelism our task is two-fold: First, we must unceasingly proclaim the evangel of personal redemption. Let us remember that "the song of the Lord began with the trumpets"—and what a thrilling, shattering, startling challenge to conquest. It was led by the preachers! There is a growing evidence on every hand that many churches might be justly described as examples of cultivated parochialism. They are slowly but surely drifting into second class social clubs, united by mild moral ideals, rather than maintaining themselves as spiritual communities alive with Divine fire.

In discharging its evangelistic obligation each local church, under the guidance of the pastor, should initiate a comprehensive program of evangelism whose direct aim is the personal redemption of men and women. Such a program involves periodic surveys to locate the unreached, a fellowship of evangelism always seeking to enlist the unchurched, preaching missions and spiritual life conferences to equip the local church for its evangelistic task. Too, we would call to your attention the value of county, city, and district programs of evangelism which have been so effectively used in other sections of our great church.

Secondly, today is preeminently the time to initiate a new epoch in reform evangelism. An old order is fast dying about our very heads. The church that cannot observe this palpable fact is too blind to see and too weak to give a challenge. He who sits and waits for the "good old days" to return will grow very weary of sitting—just sitting! To be merely traditional and served or circumscribed by pleasant ritual and ancient conventions is nothing short of treason to our supreme opportunity. It is needful that we have the courage to re-examine, to scrap and abandon the useless, to experiment with the unconventional, to dare with the untried, to stir with the unusual, to challenge with the extraordinary! Old forms about us are being ruthlessly displaced. Let the church be assured that out of this severe schooling she will not remain static—she must move on, move out, move up. In tragic bewilderment the masses today are singing, "God Bless America." But, we ask seriously, how can God bless America if the church remains static, just piping the traditional little flute in a dying civilization? What is this mass longing and singing saying to the church? What America should be moving the church? Can we mean the America of farm tenancy where men and women in abject poverty have been forced off the land? Just what must the church do to assist God in blessing that kind of America? Do the masses mean the America of race prejudice and lynching? Do they cry to Jehovah to bless the America of a Godless Sabbath, excused now by the God of Militarism? How ominous our silence! Do they mean the America of greed, graft, and special advantage—yes, the America of slums, filth, and poverty where one-third of our people live ill-fed, ill-clothed, and ill-housed? The Christian Church faces the peril of dealing in platitudes. How about the America of barrooms, barmaids, domestic infidelity, broken homes, and wrecked youth? How accusing our silence on such matters. Are we choked stiff by the idol of revenue? What shall we say about the America where sixty-three per cent of our population have no church connection? Yet we say mass evangelism is obsolete! What about the America of thirty million children and youth growing up without religious training? Dare we sing "God Bless America" from a sense of relief due to our distance from the scene of widespread brutality? Dare we pronounce shibboleths caring not that our own civilization is falling to pieces because of moral, social, and economic leprosy. Even in nations at war a new tide is rising. Let us not delay too long our rigid examination for it is far better to be pained by the probe than to die of poison. America has waited too long. "One thinks of the profound, unsparing examination by France. One thinks of Russia where, to the amazement of the organized 'Godless,' religion is coming again to the plain people. One thinks of the seventy per cent increase of Bible purchases in Germany, and the new seriousness of church attendance in Italy and of the great awakening in China known as 'The New Life Movement,' the world-invigorating revival of spiritual qualities that so grandly distinguish all British people."

Shall we allow it to be written of our reform evangelism "too little and too late." Society can sin by syndicate. It is still sin! "It is not strange that in the leading Litany of National Confession we hear the sensitive voice of France. Yet who would have believed that in Paris, yes in black headlines in the newspapers of Paris, we should first behold a nation on its knees—not before a conqueror, but before the Almighty Disposer of Events. In the first newspaper published in Paris after the occupation, in terms that may not be customary with us but whose spirit all of us understand, there was printed under a six-column heading this remarkable statement: 'We are going to pay for sixty years of de-Christianization, falling birth rate, decline into paganism and materialism, decline into political anarchy. We are paying dearly for the errors of our great French Revolution of 1789-1793. At the Marne in the last war, St. Genevieve, St. Louis, St. Joan of Arc, Our Lady of Paris, had interceded for us. Providence granted us twenty-five years respite in which to recover ourselves. We returned to our free-thinking, materialistic vomit, to our 'popular front' moral and political anarchy. We have worn out the patience of Providence! We have disgusted the good God Himself! And now when will the Lord grant us the recovery and resurrection of France?'?"

Who dares to say that this cannot happen in the United States? Unless reform evangelism and the spirit of Christian propaganda is vocal both from the pulpit and the pew, such conditions may soon come upon us. Some great metropolitan newspaper may write just such an editorial. The voice of confidence and conquest must again fill the air. We must discover the missing element in many pulpits, the vital deficiency in so many congregations. Only in the determined practice of reform evangelism can either the ministry or the church justify their perpetuity in a society of sin. We still have time, let us hope, to redeem our society from ruin but it will take unconventional, radical, dangerous, and daring aggressiveness. If we lack the courage and foresight to project a challenging program of reform avangelism, then forces much to our distaste will bungle the job. To tackle this job calls for heroism. The minister who dares to engage in reform evangelism today will need the daring of a Luther who cried to his appeasing advisers: "I will go to the Diet at Worms though the devils be as thick as the tiles on the roofs." The easy-going ecclesiastical diplomat is ruled out of reform evangelism. The temporizer is utterly disqualified!

We admit of no antagonism whatever between redemptive and reform evangelism. The Fatherhood of God implies the Brotherhood of man. Divide these great truths and the church becomes impotent and unreal and trudges on heavy feet to her day of oblivion. May the song of the Lord begin once more with the blasting of the triumphant trumpet—on the major chord—uniting the redemption of the human heart and the reform of human society as the goal of the Church of Christ on earth.

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON ADEQUATE SUPPORT OF THE MINISTRY

Pursuant to the action of the North Carolina Conference, in its 1940 session, the Special Committee appointed to study the problem of adequate support for the pastors of this Conference and to present its findings and recommendations to the North Carolina Conference at this session begs leave to present the following report:

The General Board of Lay Activities, at its annual session in July, 1941, made the following declaration of policy concerning an adequate support of the ministry:

"To the Board of Lay Activities has been given the responsibility of promoting an adequate support of the ministry. What is adequate ministerial support? Do we mean by adequate financial support just enough and no more? We should mean not a mere living of about one jump ahead of the bread line for the minister and his family, but enough to give sufficient security to make for efficiency on the part of the minister. Of course, the necessities of life should be included, such as food, shelter, clothing, heat, water, lights, telephone, insurance, and taxes; but we must go the second mile and include other needs which make for efficiency. An automobile has become an absolute necessity for the minister. The minister must have books, magazines, and religious periodicals. These cost money. He must attend conferences, schools, and assemblies. Then, the salary should be large enough to enable the minister and his family to be well and neatly dressed. In an adequate financial support, room must be provided for the minister and his family to give to every worthy cause. No congregation becomes liberal in the support of the benevolences by lessing its financial support to the minister. In solemn truth, true liberality in the support of the minister is a real step in liberality in all Kingdom purposes."

Your Committee heartily endorses the foregoing declaration of the General Board of Lay Activities and earnestly hopes that this Conference will give its unqualified approval to the following plans which seek to accomplish this purpose.

Taking into account the salaries of ministers on charges paying less than $1,500.00 a year, the annual aid of some $9,000.00 to $10,000.00 which the Conference has provided out of Conference Benevolences and administered through the Board of Missions and Church Extension, and the annual appropriation by The Duke Endowment of approximately $10,000.00 for ministerial support, your Committee is convinced that further aid is necessary in order to secure an adequate support of the ministry; therefore, it makes the following recommendations:

(1) That the Conference adopt as a goal the following minimum schedule of salaries:

Unmarried ministers	$1,200.00
Married ministers without children	1,350.00
Married ministers with children	1,500.00

(2) That the amount heretofore appropriated by the Conference to the Board of Missions and Church Extension for ministerial support be discontinued and that a proportionate reduction be made in Conference Benevolence askings.

(3) In order to maintain the above minimum salary scale, that a sustentation fund be provided by making an apportionment of an amount equal to two per cent of all money raised during the past Conference year, exclusive of funds raised for building purposes and for the payment of debts, upon every charge in the Conference that paid its minister a salary of $1,500.00 or more.

(NOTE: Reaching the recommended goal of minimum salaries for ministers depends upon: (a) an expected yield from the apportionment of not less than $22,000.00, plus the supplement of the usual Duke Endowment appropriation; (b) a total yield of not less than $8,000.00 in salary increased from the charges that pay their ministers a salary of less than the minimum set forth, respectively, for those charges in recommendation No. 1.)

(4) That the administration and distribution of the sustentation fund be made through the Conference Board of Missions and Church Extension.

(5) That the Conference create a Conference Committee on Adequate Support of the Ministry, consisting of the Chairman and Missionary Secretary of the Board of Missions and Church Extension, the Chairman of the Board of Lay Activities, and the Chairman and Executive Secretary of the Board of Education.

REPORT OF THE METHODIST BOARD OF PUBLICATION, INC., TO THE NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE

This Corporation, jointly owned by this Conference and the Western North Carolina Conference, has had a fairly successful year. Its main business, as you know, is the publication of the North Carolina Christian Advocate. There are now 10,000 subscribers within the bounds of the North Carolina and Western North Carolina Conferences. The property of the Corporation consists of the plant, 429 W. Gaston St., Greensboro, N. C., and equipment, valued at $150,394.63, and other property valued at $7,670.47. The plant is in good physical condition and is adequately insured.

Owing to recent decisions of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, we are now compelled to pay taxes upon our property, and that, with rising prices, has greatly increased operating expenses. In spite of that our income for the last fiscal year exceeded our operating expenses by $953.92.

A religious paper cannot depend to any appreciable extent upon its advertising and if we are to break even next year we must secure a larger circulation. The Methodist homes in North Carolina which do not take any religious paper afford a wide market for our wares, and the clerical members of the two Conferences can help their charges by an active campaign to increase the circulation of the Advocate.

The job department of this Corporation is prepared to do excellent work, and Methodist preachers and laymen alike are invited to compare our work and prices with those of other printing establishments. Kindly give us a trial.

Dr. W. K. Greene of Duke University has been elected President of the Corporation succeeding our late lamented President, Dr. W. P. Few. Other officers are: Rev. A. J. Hobbs, Vice-President, and Thomas C. Hoyle, Secretary.

The term of office of A. J. Hobbs has expired and the Corporation nominated him to succeed himself. We, therefore, ask that the North Carolina Conference elect him to that position.

The Corporation elected Dr. M. T. Plyler and Dr. A. W. Plyler as Editors of the North Carolina Christian Advocate and Business Managers of the Corporation, and we respectfully request Bishop Purcell and his Cabinet to appoint Dr. M. T. Plyler as one of the Editors and Business Managers.

In order that we may have an enlarged circulation of the Advocate, we recommend that this Conference adopt and pursue the following course:

1. That a quota of at least one new yearly subscription for every fifty members of each church, or charge, be secured in the two Conferences.

2. That in securing such quota the Advocate be put on a par with all other interests of the church, such as Missions, Orphanages and Conference claimants, so that the people may profit by the larger circulation of their church paper.

3. That the pastors have the full co-operation and support of the Woman's Societies of Christian Service and of the Boards of Lay Activities in circulating the Advocate in each and very church, so that this, the 87th year of the North Carolina Christian Advocate, may be the best in all its long history.

(Signed) W. K. GREENE, Chairman,
T. C. HOYLE, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE WESLEY FOUNDATION COMMISSION

During the school year of 1940-41, the Wesley Foundation has served the two Annual Conferences in North Carolina by making substantial contributions to the support of church work for students at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and at the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. In feeling happy over encouraging reports from these two student centers, we must not forget the Methodist students in three state school situations where neither of the Conferences contribute to the support of spiritual cultivation. Something should be done to provide the resources which would enable your Commission to help develop an adequate program for all the 3,000 young people from Methodist homes who are attending our state colleges and universities.

At the University Church in Chapel Hill the students are showing appreciation of the beauty of the sanctuary and the social rooms, since they have been redecorated. There are nearly 900 Methodists among the students, with a notable increase of young women. Besides the activity of students in their own Bible Class and Student Forum, there is much service rendered in the more inclusive program of the church. Students assist as ushers, members of the chorus choir, members of Church School Committees, and as members of the campus-wide Inter-faith Council. The Woman's Society of the Chapel Hill Church supplements the Student Fund in bearing the expenses of social gatherings. A card register of Methodist students, kept in the pastor's study enables a visiting committee of the local church to make helpful contacts on the campus.

College Place Church, Greensboro, has supervision over the 685 Methodist young women who are enrolled in the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina. Miss Louise Panigot is serving her second year as Wesley Foundation Director. Working with her is a nucleus of fifty-five students who are members of the several Councils which develop a truly remarkable program of worship and service activities. In addition to the usual youth activities in church life there may be mentioned the following features, from among many: The Wesley Players, giving sacred drama; the service program, exercising local charity and supporting a native minister in the Congo; the student budget, handling $200.00 annually; and co-operation in Methodist Student work on a state-wide basis, and all programs of inter-denominational effort. Refugee students from Europe have found a Methodist welcome at Greensboro and the Student Council at College Place is helping to provide for two of them from student funds.

A STATEMENT CONCERNING AN APPEAL OF JONESBORO CHARGE

Relative to the differences outstanding between the Jonesboro Charge and the Broadway Charge of the North Carolina Conference with reference to equities held by each of the above named charges in the Jonesboro parsonage, which differences were heard by a Committee duly chosen—a report was rendered thereon by the said Committee to a joint meeting of representatives of the above named charges, stating, that in the opinion of said Committee the equity pertaining to each of the above named charges were the same and that said Committee considered a 50-50 equity fair and right.

From this report the Jonesboro charge dissented and, after negotiations, an appeal was made to the North Carolina Annual Conference. The Committee on Appeals found it necessary to decline to hear the matter in the absence of official records bearing thereon—the suggestion being made that the papers were temporarily lost.

The district superintendent, who was present at a meeting of the North Carolina Annual Conference in Durham, was requested, and he agreed, to make a report to the Annual Conference and obtain an order continuing the appeal with the understanding that the pastors of the respective charges, named above, under the supervision of the district superintendent, would set up a record of the case and sign same for the use of the Committee on Appeals at a hearing to be heard at an early date following the Annual Conference.

It being expressly stipulated that the finding of the Committee on Appeals shall be final and binding on all parties.

This November 13, 1941.

(Signed) W. V. McRAE, District Superintendent,
W. L. FREEMAN, Pastor of Broadway,
D. L. FOUTS, Pastor, Jonesboro Charge.

RESOLUTION ON REPORT FORMS FOR RURAL CHURCHES

"In the face of the fact of the growth and development of our rural churches in North Carolina and because of the aid received from the Duke Endowment, there is a growing need for uniform facts in the historical records of our rural churches.

"Therefore, be it resolved: that this Conference instruct the Conference Secretary and two other members, to be appointed by the presiding Bishop, to consult with a like Commission from the Western North Carolina Annual Conference and Dr. J. M. Ormond in working out a concise report form for the rural churches, which form, if approved by the presiding Bishop and his Cabinet, shall be used for the two Conferences in 1942."

(Signed) T. M. GRANT.

RESOLUTION ON APPORTIONING OF CONFERENCE ASKINGS

I move that the Board of World Service and Finance be instructed to constitute within its membership a sub-committee to study during the coming year the matter of a basis on which to apportion the various Conference askings and to report to the next Annual Conference its findings as to the fairest basis for making these apportionments.

(Signed) C. E. Hix.

RESOLUTION OF THANKS

We, the members of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church, desire to express our thanks to all who have made of this Conference week, a high and wholesome experience:

To the City of Durham, which, through its officials, gave us warm welcome at the beginning and in many ways has demonstrated the sincerity of that welcome;

To the Press, which has sought through its agents to give accurate expression to the detail of Conference business, and knowledge of the underlying meaning of our church as seen in its annual session;

To the many who have given of their souls and minds to us in sermon and address, seeking to keep our hearts in tune with high thoughts and noblest purposes;

To our Bishop, brotherly in spirit, competent in administration of Conference business, patient with our faults, hopeful of our ministry;

To Trinity Church, our gracious host, to its officers and members and pastor, and our other associated Durham churches, all of whom, through splendid leadership and fine hearts, have entertained us royally, and left no stone unturned for our comfort;

To all these we give thanks, and upon them pray the blessing of our Father.

(Signed) J. M. CULBRETH,
J. F. HERBERT.

RESOLUTION ON CHAPLAINS

In view of temporary detachment from their routine ministry in the North Carolina Conference in order that they may meet the Spiritual needs of soldiers and sailors in the service of our country, we wish to record our appreciation of the work of L. M. Hall, E. G. Overton, T. G. Vickers, and G. S. Eubank in their regular appointments and to assure them of our prayers and interest in the difficult task which they undertake.

We wish also to express our feeling of obligation in having received into our ministry Lieutenant-Colonel H. C. Fraser, of the regular army, and to accord him sincere welcome to our responsible fellowship.

(Signed) J. M. CULBRETH,
J. F. HERBERT.

RESOLUTION ON FAIRMONT CHURCH, RALEIGH

The organization of Fairmont Church, Raleigh, was authorized by the Annual Conference of 1937. The church was organized in the State College auditorium, where services are still held.

Fairmont Church seeks to serve almost 1,000 Methodist students who attend State and Meredith Colleges and the State School for the Blind.

The time has come for the erection of a house of worship. Obviously, the local congregation cannot build adequately for the present membership, the expected growth of the church, and the students. The students are not able or expected to build the part of the church needed for them. The proposed educational building, which can serve temporarily for both church and church school purposes, will cost $50,000. Fairmont Church has agreed to raise or finance $30,000 of this. A means is sought by which to try to raise $20,000 directly from Methodists of the state, without placing any financial obligation on the Conference.

We request Bishop Purcell and the district superintendents of the Conference to lead in this drive. We request the district superintendents to provide names of laymen in their districts who might become interested. We request Bishop Purcell to write these persons and commend Fairmont Church. Fairmont Church would then mail to these persons an illustrated booklet setting forth the student work and possibilities at State College, the third unit of the Greater University of North Carolina. Fairmont Church would then follow up the letter and booklet, as far as possible, with a personal solicitation.

The purpose of this paper is three-fold: (1) To inform the Conference about the student work and needs and possibilities at State College: (2) to ask for a vote of approval of the Conference to make a drive for funds as outlined above; (3) to ask the Conference to appoint a Committee consisting of Dr. F. S. Love, W. C. Chadwick, and Dr. John C. Glenn to work with a Committee from Fairmont Church.

(Signed) W. K. GREENE,
H. M. McLAMB,
W. C. CHADWICK.

RESOLUTION ON CHURCH PROPERTY

Whereas, the Parkville Church and the old Tabernacle lot, both situated near Chapanoke, are no longer used or needed as places of worship, be it, therefore,

Resolved: That the North Carolina Conference of The Methodist Church, in session at Durham, November 11-14, authorize the Trustees of Perquimans Charge to dispose of said property and use the proceeds to improve other church property on the charge.

(Signed) B. B. SLAUGHTER, District Superintendent,
J. D. CRANFORD, Pastor,
GEORGE W. JACKSON, Charge Delegate to this Conference.

Memoirs

N. H. D. WILSON

By J. Marvin Culbreth

His own words are the truest measure of any man.

From the very portal of the tomb, the actual words of N. H. D. Wilson himself come ringing down to claim their rightful place at the beginning of this memoir. A few long days before his death, he placed in the hands of a friend a typed manuscript in which he declared his knowledge of the mystery of eternal life. Some of the words he used are therefore of exceptional significance.

"Living for months hourly conscious that there is but a step between me and death," he wrote, "has made certain questions, once theological, intensely personal and practical. 'If a man die, shall he live again?' After death, what? I have therefore been giving much thought to the reason for the hope that is in me. I have been examining the foundation of 'my hope of glory.'

"If you will call my hope a bridge that spans the chasm which reaches from the crumbling shores of the life that now is to the mist-covered but eternal hills of the great beyond, I will say that I have not suspended a bridge upon a logical chain which is of necessity as weak as its weakest link, but upon a cable made up of many strands, its strength the combined strength of all the strands.

"I base my hope on two suppositions: God is; and God is good. Then, when I look within myself, I find an instinct of life and a fear of death. Moreover, if there is no after world in which God may correct the inequalities of this world, the universe is immoral and God is unjust. Again, the capstone of creation, so far as men can see, is man himself. His personality has value beyond all things material. Will God ruthlessly destroy his masterpiece, casting him 'as rubbish to the void?' Besides, all normal men everywhere and at all times have looked forward to a future life. Witness the founders of all religions, the seers, the poets. Yet, after all, Jesus Christ is, as he himself said, the resurrection and the life. In him, in his confidence, in his teaching, in his promises, in his life and death and resurrection, we must find our supreme proof.

"To me at least these truths give assurance. I have a bridge which is safely suspended across the chasm. On it my soul passes from the crumbling shores of life that now is to the eternal hills beyond."

This man, as known to his neighbors and friends in the last days, was the matured product of forces and processes in whose grip he had lived and wrought. What he showed himself to be then, he had been becoming through years of thought and the discipline of rich and varied circumstance. The virtues and the attitudes of a full life were "summed and centered in a loveliness beyond recall." To have read his character in the proportions exhibited at the peak of his attainment was to know the man as he had habitually moved among his race.

He remained unquestionably effective within the range of his physical powers. He was ever ready to assist his pastor in any way possible. At the communion table, at weddings, at funerals, on occasions of special importance, he could be counted upon to perform services appropriate to the need. His presence in the Church school as a member of the men's Bible Class, or the occasional teacher of this or that group gave him a place of continuing influence. Out-of-doors, as long as his strength permitted, he busied himself with flowers and trees and vines so thriftily that he always had something of beauty or utility to share with his friends. The way these friends of his clung to the thread of affection which bound them to him was beautiful to see. At appropriate hours his living room scarcely ever lacked for visitors. From a distance, too, friends came and departed, thus keeping alive his influence in distant communities.

These familiar facts furthermore betoken a certain largeness of mind which deserves additional comment. It might be forgiven in a man if, after a third of a century of the closest relations with a growing body of men, he should exhibit antipathy to certain individuals or classes of persons. But in the ripeness of his maturity no such disposition was evident in N. H. D. Wilson. Resentment, distrust, criticism, even expressed lack of appreciation of any man or woman was as remote from his conversation as mists from a perfect day in June. On the contrary, it seemed that only "happy beams from human eyes" had reached the inner recesses of his soul, there to be reflected in a gentleness and kindness of speech which were adorable.

And this trait was, assuredly, all of a piece with his simple devoutness of soul. A man whose spirit "looked at God all day" could not dwell upon the deformities and the imperfections of men. The booklet, "The Upper Room," was not only an aid to daily worship with the companion of his heart but also was the symbol of the altitude in which his soul was homing. Visitors to his room were often asked to pray; and now and then he himself became the priest who pronounced the benediction.

The tension of his sanctuary of pain was constantly eased by the wealth of his endowment with quaint and genuine humour. One rarely left his bedside without the refreshment of laughter over one of his ever-ready anecdotes, while with undeniable eagerness he enjoyed glimpses of the outside world of play and frolic flashed to him by his friends.

The service which N. H. D. Wilson gave to humanity through the instrumentality of the North Carolina Annual Conference, in retrospect takes on the proportions of an odessey. His life was a principality bounded by the limits of half the State in which he served. Not only did he exert an influence in this domain, but he appeared in person again and yet again in almost every part of the territory. As pastor and presiding elder he travelled and sojourned from the portal of the Old Dominion on the North to the outer fringe of the graceful palmettoes on the South, and from the piedmont on the West to tide water on the East. In the thirteen assignments which he received between 1890 and 1929, he remained in six four years, in three three years, in three two years and in one one year, the shortness of the last period being due to sickness.

The sources of such a life as this should be safeguarded in memory as a shrine. Born of a father who was himself a distinguished minister of the Gospel and of a mother whose father was a licensed preacher, in the year 1866, at Greensboro, North Carolina; educated at the University of North Carolina and Vanderbilt University; loved, nurtured and supported by a noble wife, who was Miss Minnie Mangum of Chapel Hill, N. H. D. Wilson assumed and carried on the work of the ministry with advantages which justified the highest expectations of the Church he served.

He fulfilled those expectations.

J. T. GIBBS

By E. H. Davis

The Nestor of the North Carolina Conference went out from among us when Dr. John T. Gibbs quietly breathed his last in the hospital in Danville, Virginia, while on a visit to his son, John C. Gibbs, of Pelham, N. C. It is no straining of language or effort to award unmerited distinction to give him this eminence. By the universal acclaim of his brethren, certainly among them who had known him and worked with him during his active years, he was regarded as such—a leader among his brethren, in no sense self constituted, hardly even aware that such was his place. As was said by the biographer of that old Greek warrior and patriot who, despite his years, towered among men far younger and perhaps abler than himself, "he came to leadership, not only by reason of age, but because of his tranquil, useful and virtuous life." Three apter words could hardly be found to portray the life of this Nestor of Carolina Methodism. Always clear in his thought and no less so in his expression thereof, having views of his own which he could and did maintain with vigor, he was still no scrapper; there was never a chip, theologically or otherwise, on his shoulder. He was a man of peace and his purpose ever to assuage troubled waters rather than in any way to make or to contribute to their commotion. Tranquil is the word that fitly describes the voyage of his long life from this viewpoint. Unfailing integrity too, uprightness of character, and strict virtue were also his. Whether as a local preacher, doing supply work before most of the members of this conference were born, or as an undergraduate taking the four years course of study for that day as prescribed by those in authority, or as the beloved pastor on circuit, town, or city charge, or as presiding elder, with the unparalleled record of thirty consecutive years in that office, ever the answer at the call of his name by the Bishop at the Annual Conference, not one session of which did he ever miss until his superannuation, was "there is nothing against him." And after that relation came to him and increasing years and infirmity made his attendance irregular, the answer still, the unanimous answer of his brethren, was "there is nothing against him." He went out that way. But

Dr. Gibbs' long and useful life could not be measured by negatives, however fine the virtues those negatives might emphasize. He was an active man, quick in his movements, clear in his thought, equally so in his utterance thereof, and effective. No one, who wanted to do so, could fail to understand him in the pulpit or on the platform. He was a reasoner rather than an orator, and his approach to a congregation was ever after this fashion, "Come and let us reason together." Possibly his last appearance in the pulpit, before this Conference in session was in this City of Durham, in 1916, when by request he delivered an address on Francis Asbury, marked by close study, apt expression, and fervent delivery. Though aging at the time, he must have been at his best that day, for it evoked rapt attention and made a profound impression.

Those thirty years of itinerating as a presiding elder under the old regime were not with him years of monotony and routine. The office was no sinecure, as he saw it. His long tenure thereof was characterized by a mastering love for the Church and a real interest in the welfare of the preachers in his district, and their families. Quite a number of preachers in our conference, some of whom reached possibly greater distinction than ever came to him, owed much to Dr. Gibbs' wise council and fatherly watch-care in their early years. In this way, as well as in others, those thirty years of district work were valuable to the church.

It might be thought that long continuance in work of that sort would almost necessarily unfit one for the work of a fixed pastorate. Because of growing conviction of that sort, the law of the church was changed, forbidding the holding of the office for a longer term than four consecutive years. Before the passage of such legislation, Dr. Gibbs, at the expiration of his thirty years tenure, was relieved of district work and went to the pastorate of a small group of churches in one of the best sections of this or any other state. In what spirit did he go? With what spirit was he received? The answer to both questions is the same—the very best spirit—the true Christian spirit, or the spirit of the Christ himself. With what result? Four of the very happiest years of his whole life were spent among a people by whom he was greatly respected and deeply beloved. He chose to make his home in the county of his birth within a dozen miles from the very spot where he first saw the light.

John Thomas Gibbs was born September 10, 1848, in what was then Warren County, but is now Vance County, North Carolina. His parents were Richard Gibbs and Mary Stanback Gibbs. Dying December 28, 1940, he lacked only a little over seven years of rounding out a century. Life for him began here in the closing years of the forties of the past century and terminated in the opening years of the forties of the present century. For a short while he was a pupil at the Academy in Henderson, then under the charge of Messrs. T. J. and W. D. Horner. For two years, 1868 and 1870, he was at Trinity College in Randolph County, then under the presidency of Braxton Craven. He taught school and did supply work in the Conference 1870-1874. He was admitted on trial into the North Carolina Conference in Raleigh, December, 1874, Bishop E. M. Marvin, presiding, and was ordained an elder in 1878 at Charlotte, Bishop George F. Pierce, presiding.

His appointments in the Conference were as follows: Fifth Street, Wilmington, 1875; Warren Circuit, 1876; Oxford Circuit, 1877; Oxford Station, 1878-80; Granville Circuit, 1881-82; Oxford, 1883; Tar River Circuit, 1884-85; Fayetteville, Hay Street, 1886-87; Edenton Street, Raleigh, 1888; Salisbury District, 1889; Fayetteville District, 1890-93; Rockingham District, 1894-97; Warrenton District, 1898; Raleigh District, 1899-1902; Durham District, 1903-06; Fayetteville District, 1907-1910; Washington District, 1911-14; Fayetteville District, 1915-18; Warrenton Circuit, 1919-22; Clayton, 1923. Thus closed his long and useful life in the Conference after forty-seven years of continuous service therein, during which he never missed a rollcall. He served twenty years as a superannuate, making a total of sixty-seven years of membership in the Conference. His last charge was Clayton, where, having served one year as pastor, he concluded it was time for him to hold up. He returned to Warrenton where he had just had a delightful pastorate of four years, where he also had a home and where a part of his family lived.

Dr. Gibbs was thrice married, first to Miss Mary Wallace of Richlands, of which union there are no surviving children. His second wife was Miss Mary Currie of Wilmington. The surviving children are John C. Gibbs, Pelham, N. C.; Mrs. Mary (G. T.) Adams of Sanford. His third marriage was with Miss Mary Overbaugh of Fayetteville, of which union the surviving children are: Richard R. Gibbs of Philadelphia; Wallace D. Gibbs of Charlotte; Frank H. Gibbs of Warrenton; and Mrs. Virginia Pearshall, also of Warrenton. Most of his life as a superannuate was spent in the town of Warrenton, by whose citizens, regardless of creed or color, he was held in the highest esteem. To the pastors of the Methodist Church, as they came, he was ever a true friend, a wise counselor, a spiritual father. He made their hearts glad by his helpful presence regularly at public worship. Rarely was his face ever missed at the morning service on Sunday. On one occasion, when the snow was deep, it was thought wise to call off that service, no notice of which recall had reached him. He wended his solitary way through the snow, and, at eleven o'clock he was there. The only one there, this man of eighty and more. At an Easter service he attended, possibly his last of the sort, at the close of the sermon by his pastor he asked to say a word. His word in substance was this, "I know well that the end of life for me is not far in front of where I stand just now. I am in no hurry to go, but am simply biding God's time. I would have you know this, there is absolutely nothing in front that has any terror for me. When it is His will, I shall not fear or shrink or hesitate." Like Paul, he could say "I know whom I have believed."

"Age is opportunity no less
Than youth itself though in another dress
And as the evening twilight fades away
The sky is filled with stars invisible by day."

The honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon Dr. Gibbs by Emory College of Oxford, Georgia, now Emory University of Atlanta. Dying in Danville, Virginia, his body was taken to Hay Street Church in Fayetteville where, fifty-five years before, he had been pastor. At which place burial services were held, conducted by his pastor, Rev. J. O. Long of Warrenton, and Rev. R. E. Brown, the pastor of the church. The interment was in the beautiful cemetery in that city by the side of the tomb of his last wife.

WILLIAM H. TOWNSEND

By M. T. Plyler

Rev. William Henry Townsend was born at the old Townsend home, near old Asbury Church, in Robeson County, N. C., February 19, 1855. He died at Burrus Memorial Hospital in High Point, January 21, 1941. He was a son of Richard and Sarah Moore Townsend who belonged to the prominent Townsend family so well known through all the years as devoted Methodists.

Young Townsend attended the schools in Robeson until he entered Trinity College in January, 1876, where he spent one year. Later, he matriculated at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., where he received the A.B. degree in 1884. He then joined the North Carolina Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in 1885, and served as pastor in various charges, among them being Williamston, Elizabethtown, and Kings Mountain. Brother Townsend retired from the active ministry in 1905, because of ill health, and was placed on the Supernumerary list of the Conference. He moved to High Point in 1906 and later was chosen secretary-treasurer of the North State Telephone Company in which capacity he served until 1936.

Rev. W. H. Townsend married Miss Laura Hayden of Thomasville, N. C., in December, 1886. Mrs. Townsend passed away in High Point, March 3, 1936. Surviving are two brothers, James L. Townsend of Manquin, Va., and L. T. Townsend of Lumberton, a sister, Mrs. Agnes McCallum of Red Springs.

Brother W. H. Townsend died at the age of 85. He had been a resident of High Point for thirty-five years, but through all the years of his business life he had remained a member of the North Carolina Conference, devoted to every interest of the Methodist Church.

In his will he left his home in High Point to the Trustees of the North Carolina Conference to be devoted to the welfare of the retired ministers of the North Carolina Conference. His devotion to his church was unwavering to the end.

A reporter of the High Point Enterprise visited this esteemed citizen of the town on his 84th birthday. He was asked to what he attributed his long life in spite of ill health. His reply was, "I have never ceased to trust the Lord, and He has helped me all along the way." Then he repeated this from his favorite hymn: "How Firm a Foundation," "I'll strengthen thee, and help thee, and cause thee to stand." The reporter adds: "So quietly did Rev. W. H. Townsend live in our midst he was not generally known here. He was a gentle soul, had a warm heart, love for his fellowman, and constant patience, greater perhaps than that of Job, of whom he often read and whose philosophy he admired. He had a good mind, and though ill health caused him to retire from the active ministry thirty-five years ago, he applied himself to duties commensurate with his powers, and never experienced the financial difficulties which once beset so many superannuated ministers. Surely Rev. William Henry Townsend showed the strength there is in meekness, and we have reason to believe that he was a true soldier of the Cross."

No finer and more authoritative testimony could be given than that which came from Mr. J. F. Hayden of High Point, who had known W. H. Townsend for fifty-five years, most of that time in the intimate relationship that comes in a joint business enterprise. This seems to be about the last word. What could be more convincing and more consoling!

In compliance with my request for a brief estimate of his long time associate, Mr. Hayden writes: "I am pleased to say that I regarded Rev. W. H. Townsend as a fine Christian gentleman of the highest type. He was kind to every one, and was well liked and held in high esteem by all who knew him. He was a good conversationalist and always made himself pleasant in the company of others. During the period of about 55 years that I knew him I never heard a cross word pass from his lips. He possessed a long list of excellent qualities."

F. M. SHAMBURGER

By O. W. Dowd

Frank Mebane Shamburger, son and youngest child of Peter and Londa Burney Shamburger, born in Moore County, January 10, 1860, died at his home in Oxford, N. C., February 24, 1941, 81 years of age. He was graduated from Trinity College 1883 and joined North Carolina Conference same year at session held at Statesville.

Ordained deacon November 29, 1885, Charlotte, by Bishop J. C. Keener. Ordained elder December 4, 1887 by Bishop Joseph Key.

Married 1888, November 14, to Miss Della Rowena Norman of Baltimore, Md., daughter of Nathan D. and Deborah H. Norman of Baltimore. To this union were born five daughters, three of whom died in infancy. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Myrtle Norman (Mrs. Kerr Taylor) of Oxford, and Londa Norman (Mrs. Pierce Johnson) of Weldon.

Was a member of the North Carolina Conference for 49 years and served the following charges: Perkin Circuit, 1883; Montgomery Circuit, 1884; Manly Mission, 1885; Plymouth, 1886-1888; Tarboro, 1888-1890; Kinston, 1890-1894; Laurinburg, 1894-1898; Rockingham, 1898-1902; Fifth Street, Wilmington, 1902-1903; Oxford, 1903-1907; Edenton Street, Raleigh, 1907-1909; Supernumerary,1909-1910; Oxford (second time), 1910-1911; Hertford, 1911-1915; Weldon, 1915-1919; New Bern District, 1919-1923; Roxboro, 1923-1927; Mount Gilead, 1927-1932 (five years); Superannuated at session of Conference held in Greenville, 1932, Bishop Mouzon, presiding. Lived in his own home in Oxford until his death.

Little did I think when I saw Brother Shamburger Friday afternoon, February 21, that the end of his long itinerant journey was so near. Yet how true it is that the day is far spent, and the evening shadows are lengthening before we are aware of it. On the following Monday morning when the shadows of the night had fled, a new day had dawned for him that would know no night, for in that world of light into which he went the stars forever shine; a land that is fairer than day. His going was about the way he would have wished. On Sunday he worshipped twice in the church that he loved so much. He saw many of his dear friends there for the last time without being aware of it.

I want to say something that marked this man as a man of God, as a true Ambassador of Jesus Christ. First, his chief concern, his ruling passion, the one thing of his life, the thing that gave strength to his character and made his ministry effective was his religion. He could say as the Master, "Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business? I must work the works of Him that sent me while it is day, for the night cometh when no man can work." The Methodist ministry was his vocation, not a side issue. Though formally a retired minister, few were more active in teaching, preaching, visiting.

One saw the reality and vitality of his faith in three directions. It was more than creed. there was Christ in it. It was more than ritual, there was righteousness. There was more than a program, there was spiritual power for the performance of the duties and tasks of his life. There was devout worship, public and private. He had his morning watch in thoughtful meditation and prayer. He could pray mightily in public, because he so often communed with God in private. All Oxford knew of his earnest prayer life.

Here in prayer he learned the secret of the Lord. "Private prayer was the maintenance cost of his spiritual life."

He was more than a worshipper. He was a worker, in season and out of season. He was always eager to render Christian service. His faith was not in word but in deed, not a mere profession but a possession. He was a believer in Christianity finding expression in worship, right living, in Christian service.

This thing he hated. He hated sin in every form and fashion. He believed in abstaining from all appearance of evil. You knew where he stood on every moral issue. Hatred of sin made him militant and aggressive in attitude toward sin. He was a Christian soldier of the first rank. He was a student of the law and the prophets. But he knew not only to hate sin. He loved the erring back to the better way of life.

His religion had love in it. He loved the lovable, the beautiful, the true and praise worthy things. He loved his home, church, community, his fellowmen. He loved his Lord. There was no come-between, no rival. His Lord was supreme in his affections.

No one loved Oxford and Granville County, and was more devoted to its highest welfare than he. His shadow will lengthen through the years. No man for many years will be more missed upon the streets of Oxford, missed from church services. His gracious presence in a spiritual sense will linger long in the true hearts of his many friends.

He did not therefore take his religion lightly. What he believed he believed tremendously. Hence his courage to stand for truth and righteousness. His deep convictions concerning God, man, sin, righteousness, redemption explained his devotion and the consecration of his life. The streams of his religious life ran deep and strong. Religion was more than a philosophy with him, it was more than theology, it was life. It embraced right living in all relationships.

He often said that he was living on borrowed time, being past eighty. Though old in years he was much alive. He was the most alert mentally and spiritually of any aged minister I ever knew. He was still dreaming of work to be done, of heights in Christian attainments to be reached, of unreached areas to conquer. No man loved life and wanted to live on in truest sense any more than he. He continued to read and write and preach. That more abundant life, that life beyond the conjunction "and" is his now forever more. He found that in the last great adventure into the heavenlies.

I asked a thoughtful minister friend of his the other day what he thought was Brother Shamburger's greatest and most lasting contribution to his church and community. He replied, "It was his positive Christian life. In him again the word became flesh. Through him the word of life was spoken."

A beautiful story is told of three sons sent out by their father to make an exploring trip up the mountain side, and to bring back specimens of their trip. The first son came back with beautiful flowers from the mountain side. The second son returned with rare stones from farther up the mountain. The third son came back with no flowers, with no rare stones. He said, "Father, I climbed on and on to the top of the mountain. There I caught sight of the sea." The subject of this sketch cared but little for the tangible. He dealt in the intangible. When the end of his pilgrimage came, he caught sight of the sea, the sea of life. Into that life he entered. Like Enoch of old, he was not, for God took him. And of him it may be truly said: "Blessed in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints." And may a double portion of his spirit fall upon us who tarry here.

Well, done, thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.

JAMES MANLEY RHODES

By Mrs. John S. Nowell

In the county of Johnston, State of North Carolina, in the community now known as Four Oaks, on April 17, 1850 a child of promise was born to Atlas James Kinchen Rhodes and his wife Spicey West whom they christened Erastus James Manley.

The sacrifices of this Godly pair to give their son the bringing-up they coveted for him constitute a thrilling chapter in the life story of J. M. Rhodes, preacher and educator.

In the troublous times preceding, during and following the "War Between the States," school advantages in the South for the rural boy of limited finances were meager. However, the records show that young James being a lover of books, as he styled himself, was kept in school all the time there was a school.

Finally, we see him, "a youth for fortune and for fame unknown," entering old Trinity College under the presidency of Dr. Braxton Craven, January, 1869. From this institution he received the A. B. degree in 1875, and the A. M. one year later. (His college ccurse was interrupted by intervals of teaching.) Other academic honors included the Debater's Medal given by the Hesperian Literary Society.

His college career ended, James M. Rhodes joined the North Carolina Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in session at Wilmington, December, 1875, Bishop McTyeire, presiding. At the time of his death, his name stood first on the Conference roll, chronologically.

The talents and ability of the young preacher were at once recognized and his first appointment was to Fifth Street Church, Wilmington, then the largest city in the State and, as now, its chief seaport. Another appointment was to the aristocratic little town of Warrenton.

Throat trouble developing, this young man of God turned aside to the field of Christian education. And who that knows the work and spirit of "Littleton College," will dare assert that this was not a Divine commission? For, while there were others who might with equal power proclaim the "unsearchable riches of Christ," the work of "Littleton College" was unique, demanding a leader specially set apart.

Thus, in January, 1882, was founded "Central Institute," for girls and young women, which received its charter in 1883. A new charter was granted in 1887 and the name changed to "Littleton Female College."

Soon thereafter Mr. Rhodes moved to Henderson, N. C., and took charge of the college there, while "Littleton" was administered by S. D. Bagley. This arrangement was of short duration, for in the spring of 1889, "Littleton College" was purchased by J. M. Rhodes and in August of the same year, he again became its president, sustaining that relationship for thirty consecutive years, or until, on the night of January 22, 1919, relentless flames swept away the entire college plant, leaving the steel water tower standing as a lone sentinel on the deserted campus. Though in ashes the college still lives and its influences, like echoes will continue to "roll from soul to soul, and grow forever and forever."

Following the fire Mr. Rhodes eventually removed to Florida in which State he made his home for the remainder of his life, in virtual retirement.

On July 3, 1941, in Bartow, where he had spent the past several years, "in age and feebleness extreme," the summons came and he entered joyfully into his Heavenly inheritance a "good and faithful servant."

A memorial service was held in the Methodist Church at Winter Haven, his Florida home for a number of years, on July 4th, after which the remains were brought to Littleton, N. C., for interment. Funeral services were conducted from the Littleton Methodist Church in whose pulpit he had so often stood, and the body laid to rest in the family plot "Sunset Hill" cemetery, July 5th.

If ever a man was blessed in marriage, that man was James Manly Rhodes. His first wife was Florence Simmons who gave seven years of self-sacrificing service to the cause of Christian education. Sister of Rev. G. T. Simmons, member of an aristocratic Virginia family, she was a woman of culture and a source of unending inspiration to her young husband. To this union there were born two children, both dying in infancy.

His second wife, who preceded him to the grave by four years, though many years his junior, was Lula A. Hester, teacher of voice at "Littleton," whose remarkable soprano gained for her an enviable reputation as a singer. As surely as Queen Esther was raised up for a specific task Lula Hester was called to the work of "Littleton College." And, whether as wife, mother to their adopted daughter, Lilian Bridges Rhodes, or as wise and sympathetic counselor to the hundreds of young women committed to her care, during the more than twenty-five years of service as lady principal, whether as teacher of voice and Bible, or as consecrated Kingdom worker, she measured up to every test and proved a stimulus alike to husband, teacher, student and friend. She was ever a broadcaster of cheer. Amid the hardships and readjustments following the burning of the college, she was the same radiant spirit exemplifying in her daily life the truth of the Biblical lines, so often quoted by her: "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee."

Though survived only by his adopted daughter, Mrs. Alberti; her two-year-old daughter, Lilian Louise, and a number of nieces and nephews among whom is Bank Commissioner, Gurney P. Hood of Raleigh, hundreds throughout the Carolinas and other southern states, daughters of "Littleton," who have become as corner-stones polished after the similitude of a palace," rise up and call James Manly Rhodes, blessed.

"To live in the hearts of those we leave behind, is not to die."

GASTON TROY ADAMS

By Allen P. Brantley

A great soul born of both man and God lived among us, with us, and for us. A life crowded and full to the brim for 76 years. As Matthew Arnold said of Sophocles, "He saw life steadily, and he saw it whole," could well have been said of the great soul who lived so beautifully amoung us.

To him life was a great adventure. He faced it as a noble pioneer, undergirded with an indomitable spirit ever unbeaten, and unconquerable. To him the greatest thrill of life, was living. For living to him was as a "Far off divine event, toward which all creation moves." He lived far ahead of the groups and the masses of his day intellectually and spiritually, which groomed him as a truly great leader. He desired nothing greater than to live on life's notable plateaus, where living with spiritual abandon his courageous career was crowned with worthy acts, generous action and charitable deeds. On that plateau of intellectual activity, the greatest thrill of his princely adventure was realized. For when testing and perplexing questions of theology, philosophy, sociology or any other realm of thought arose he committed himself manfully and was truly a victor. Intellectually and spiritually he was unafraid. Many times he could have said:

"I do not fear to tread the path that those
I love long since have trod,
I do not fear to pass the gates and stand before the living God."

He truly believed that there was a "Divinity that shapes our ends rough hew them though we may."

His early training at Trinity College and Vanderbilt University both of which he was a graduate, together with the sound judgment which he possessed prepared him for intellectual success in any adventure. As a minister, his sermons were fresh and vitalizing, and bore evidence of scholarly masterpieces. Since his retirement from the active ministry he has been a popular and well beloved teacher of the Men's Bible Class of the Methodist Church of Sanford, N. C. He was held in the highest esteem by members of his large Bible Class, partially because of his fresh, up-to-date, vitalizing and modern interpretation of his Bible lectures. Even though he was a bit feeble physically in his latter years, there was always a picture of an intellectual youth about him. He loved children with an ardent devotion which probably helped to account for his being young in his ideas and truly modern in his Biblical interpretation. He was not only scholarly in his teaching but he was exceedingly just and charitable in his applications. As a teacher he was greatly beloved and had few equals. This was G. T. Adams.

On that high plateau of living adventurously, there was the realm of religion in which this noble soul surpassed and was truly at home. It could be said of him as was said of Barnabas, "He was a good man." For he knew whereof he spoke and lived accordingly. We could well describe him in the words of St. Paul, "I have fought a good fight, I have run the race, I have finished my course, henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness." This was Brother Adams.

It was my gracious privilege to know Brother Adams most intimately during the past three years and I have never known a man who possessed such an abundance of spiritual assurance. He was never greatly concerned about the so called perplexities of either life or death, for his calm spirit of religious assurance gave him a contented soul in which there was no room for doubt or despondency. If I were to describe this noble, brave soul, I would do it in these words which I think he could have often repeated:

"So live that when thy summons comes to join
The innumerable caravan that moves
To that mysterious realm, where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death,
Thou go not like the quarry slave at night
Scourged to his dungeon, but sustained and soothed,
By an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave,
Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
About him and lies down to pleasant dreams."

Outside of his family, there will be few people who will miss Brother Adams more than I. I always looked forward to his weekly visits with me in my study at the church. Seldom did a week pass without his coming, during these past three years. Those visits meant much to me, he not only brought me the names of new people who had moved into town, of which he was constantly on the look out, but his coming was freighted with inspiration and pleasure. How easily and assuringly did he inspire me when face to face with perplexing problems. In his presence and with the gentle ease with which he banished every cloud and shadow, I feel like saying of him as was said of Thomas Hardy, "When one winter evening he was walking in the fields and the world was bleak and grey and shivery and dismal and dead everything, his own heart included, wrapped in gloom: When suddenly from a tree above his head a thrush burst into song, a veritable carol of joy—and the poet stood still wondering and saying:

"I could think there trembled thru
His happy good night air
Some blessed hope whereof he knew
And I was unaware."

That is how great souls who have really seen and lived with Christ strike us. They have discovered something which perhaps we have not discovered.

"Some blessed hope, whereof they know
And we are unaware."

We pause for these brief moments to pay our profound respect to this noble and princely soul whose spirit lingers with us. His ministry in the kingdom of God has been like a sacred halo to the multitudes to whom he ministered. To many a perplexed and wandering soul he brought peace and contentment. His ministry was extensive and far reaching, covering many strategic points in the North Carolina Conference of Methodism. His thirty years of active ministry were dedicated to the following charges:

Fairfield, 1898-1900; Raleigh—Central, 1900-1902; New Bern, 1902-1905; Durham—Trinity, 1905-1909; Wilmington—Fifth Avenue, 1909-1913; Elizabeth City District, 1913-1917; Goldsboro—St. Paul, 1917-1921; Dunn—Divine Street, 1921-1924; Sanford, 1924-1928.

A great life has come and gone, but his spirit will remain with us always—that noble spirit. Let me leave this picture with you of him we loved:

"A breath of joy, an hour of pain
Dark paths to tread, white heights to gain,
A little love, a little strife,
And this is life.

A little rest, a swift new birth,
A snapping of the bonds of earth
A joyous stride, a tingling breath,
And this is death.

For life and death walk hand in hand,
With never a span between,
And the same path leads to that Other Land
Where the sunlit fields are green."

MRS. C. W. ROBINSON

By A. S. Barnes

Mrs. C. W. Robinson reached the end of her earthly pilgrimage on August 13, 1940, after a long and useful life of service in the Master's cause. Before her marriage to Reverend C. W. Robinson, she was Miss Rosa Hellen Chandler of Caswell County, N. C., and was born on October 1, 1870. She was the faithful and devoted wife of an itinerant Methodist preacher, and graced the parsonage on many charges throughout the bounds of the North Carolina Conference. Her husband preceded her to his heavenly reward on April 8, 1921.

After his translation Sister Robinson lived in Clayton, N. C., where she owned a little home, until several months before she died. She passed away in the home of her sister, Mrs. Jake Thompson, near Roxboro, N. C. Her funeral was conducted from the Chapel of the Methodist Orphanage in Raleigh, N. C., by the writer of this memoir. During the pastorate of Brother C. W. Robinson on the Granville Charge, I became intimately acquainted with Brother and Sister Robinson, as I was pastor on the Oxford Circuit, adjoining his work. For more than thirty years I was in constant contact with the subject of this sketch.

Brother Robinson made me the executor of his will, and this brought me in still closer contact with Sister Robinson. In her declining years she consulted me frequently about her business affairs, and it was my happy privilege to transact much of her business for her. She had her sorrows, and many bitter disappointments, which I shared with her. Sister Robinson was a quiet, unassuming woman, but possessed a strong Christian character. Her unfaltering trust in the goodness of God sustained her through the many years of her widowhood. She lived alone in her little cottage, among the friends of her husband's last pastorate, in Clayton, but she had the constant companionship of Him to whom she had committed her life from early childhood. As she advanced in years she grew in grace, and in the knowledge of One who had been her guiding star through life. She and her devoted husband, through their long ministry, had accumulated a small estate. After bequeathing part of her estate to an only child, Horace, her sisters and nieces, she left the residue of her possessions to the Methodist Orphanage, as a permanent Memorial Fund to her husband and herself. Though dead, the influence of Brother and Sister Robinson will continue to live in the lives of the boys and girls at the Methodist Orphanage through the generations to come. Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from henceforth: yea, saith the Spirit, that they shall rest from their labors; and their works do follow them.

MRS. J. M. LOWDER

By Rev. J. T. Stover

Mrs. J. M. Lowder went to her eternal home on July 21, 1941, from her earthly home at Rutherford College, N. C.

She was the widow of the late Rev. J. M. Lowder, member of the North Carolina Conference who preceded her to the better land by a year. That surely was a happy meeting!

Mrs. Lowder had been in declining health for several years, and was confined to her home for several months before her death.

Her children were her constant and faithful helpers through all the days of her illness.

It was a great comfort that her daughter, Rosa, could be with her at the last. Miss Rosa is a missionary nurse, lately returned from Korea.

She was born in Cottonville, N. C., and before her marriage to Brother Lowder was Miss Molly Shankle.

Her husband joined the North Carolina Conference several years after they were married. It was with a heart full of the love of God and the good of the Cause that she entered into the life of a wife of a Methodist minister. She met the "ups and downs" of the life in the parsonage with a smile and a will to do the very best that she could. That was proved by the hosts of friends that she made every where she went.

Mrs. Lowder never cared for the "showy" things of life, but spent her time in the doing of things that counted for the good of those around her and her everlasting glory.

I didn't know Mrs. Lowder until after the Conference had superannuated me and I came here to make my home. The Lowder family had been here for a year. I bought a home next the Lowder home and the two families have lived in close and deep friendship since. An open door has always been an open sesame for both families.

When sickness and death came to my home and carried away to the better land my dear wife and helpmate, the comfort that Mrs. Lowder brought to me will always be a sweet memory. Her deeds of mercy and words of comfort will always remain a source of comfort in my heart.

Her last days were a great benediction to me. Through all her sufferings she was patient and welcomed her friends with a smile, as long as she was able to see her friends. Her smile will long linger in my mind as a sweet memory.

Her passing has left a vacant place that none can fill, but our loss is her eternal gain, so we can not wish her back.

I am sure my own life has been enriched by her deeply Christian character.

MRS. D. F. LOWRY

By W. A. Parsons

On Sunday, October 12, 1941, Mrs. D. F. Lowry of Pembroke, passed to her reward. She was fifty-three years old, had been in poor health more than a year and had been confined to her room more than eight weeks.

She was born near McColl, S. C. He name was Jessie Mae Hatcher. She was married to Brother Lowry in 1906. She has been a member of the Methodist Church more than thirty years.

She was of quiet disposition. With her husband she was greatly interested in giving their children the best religious and educational advantages. Means were limited and encouragements were few but five of them have attained degrees from high grade institutions of learning. Earl Cranston, the oldest is the busy assistant general surgeon of the government hospital at Atlanta. Kermit and Frances, each with a well earned M. A. degree, are teaching, he in his native county and she in Illinois. Lessie is chief nurse in a government health service in Oregon. Lorrane, also a graduate nurse, is keeping house in Nashville, Tenn. The three younger children Fred, Cynthia and Bruce, are still in the home in Pembroke.

Mrs. Lowry was aware that death was approaching and faced the event calmly, stating that she was prepared for it. Her husband, Rev. D. F. Lowry, of North Carolina Conference, Director of the Pembroke Parish, will continue to carry on bravely and to prove himself worthy of the confidence of his brethren. The community, the church and the home have suffered loss. Mrs. Lowry has passed from the region of shadows to the realities.

Sessions of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church

The North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church was composed of the former North Carolina Conference of the M. E. Church, South, and parts of the former North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church and former Blue Ridge-Atlantic Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The former Methodist Episcopal Church gave to the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church 9 preachers, 11 charges and 1,837 members; the former Methodist Protestant Church 23 preachers, 20 charges and 9,152 members; the former Methodist Episcopal Church, South, 273 preachers, 226 charges and 132,735 members.

NOTE: The Distributing Committee at the 1940 session of the Western North Carolina Conference added three retired ministers of the former Methodist Protestant Church to the roll of the North Carolina Conference. The names of these preachers should have been included in 1939 in the list of preachers coming into the North Carolina Conference from the former Methodist Protestant Church.
